

I'm speaking to you from the lemonade department here at Kol HaNeshamah.

As you can see by the evidence, I recently had surgery. I'd been through it before. I knew how to prepare for it and methodically went about lining up supports from my community.

If you've ever been there, you know that this kind of incapacity can make you really sour. But, as life will have it, the KHN community made this a really sweet experience. I had the loveliest times with people I hadn't really known before. Thank you so much for my most excellent handicap ramp, built by Steve Weil, for the meals, phone calls, rides, laundry and home help I received, and, most of all, for the pleasure of your company and conversation.

All I had to do was ask. So now I'm asking you to consider that your community may yet unfold for you in unexpected and delightful ways and to make that possible through your support. Thanks.
